STUDENT SUPERVISION

MANAGING MILLENNIALS
Students look to teachers for instruction, for guidance, and for modeling of appropriate behavior.

In the same way, students who are employees look to their managers for training, for professional and personal development.
NOW…..Who are our Student Employees?

- Born between 1980-2000 they are called:
  - NEXTERS
  - GENERATION Y
  - INTERNET GENERATION
  - DIGITAL GENERATION
  - MyPODS etc…

But….the clear winner is the “ MILLENIALS”
(Peter Jennings abcnews.com)
WHO ARE THE “MILLENIALS”?

According to Claire Raines “Managing Millennials” from UCSC – Training and Dev. Career Center they are “the hottest commodity on the job market”.

- Sociable
- Optimistic
- Talented
- Well educated
- Open-minded
- Connected
- Influential and the most important:
- Achievement oriented
Millennials Rising: R.J. Matson, Cartoonist
This is the first generation to grow up surrounded by digital media

Multitasking is one of their forte!

Mastering rapidly changing technology and constant multitasking.
For them, a world without cell phones or Internet access is unimaginable.

They are emailing, IMing, iPoding, watching TV, text messaging, listening to their MP4, and doing their homework at the same time
They are Raised by “Helicopter parents”- those who hover over all their kid’s activities, ready to swoop in, provide input and take control.
Now, we have to keep in mind that most of the time when they get the job, this is their first “real job” and we are the only one who they connect with for a while...

Therefore while you are training ......
First quarter look for depression attack!

Separation anxiety-be aware of the symptoms
goalieless-helpless
Millenials are always busy; Despite all the different activities they are engaged in, they still manage to work at the same time.

They expect more supervision and coaching because they have spent more time with their parents who organized their activities, school goals and free time.
"You get five minutes between soccer and piano? What do you do with all that free time?!?"
An Overview of What we do?

We train them (from tours, introductions, computer, programs, office etiquette and procedures to money related questions ex. Timesheet)

Schedule
  Evaluate - Performance
    - Attendance
    - Behavior
    - Attitude

Motivate to work
Correct behavior - through counseling
Teach them valuable transferable skills

Keep the place rolling!

Regardless of our training style, our goal is the same:

- To have them fully trained
- To encourage them to see it as a career
- To make them feel safe and appreciated
... suggestions

- Earn their trust and respect
- Set clear expectations and then get out of the way
- Let them come to you with questions, rather than micro-managing them.
- Ask for input
- Let them be entrepreneurs within their departments. (Hint: This is pretty good advice for managing most people).
- Give lots of feedback... make it QUIC: Quality (brief, specific), Immediate, and Constructive (this is what you can do better, this is how this project is tied to your longer term goals).
- Get to the point
- Offer professional and personal development opportunities
